000 Annual Saving Is Expected.

By Associated Press.
PHILADELPHIA, April 2.—In pursuance with the retrenchment plans made public last week, the Pennsylvania railroad today announced 118 passenger trains on the lines east of Pittsburgh and Erie, and a large number on the western lines.

The 118 trains discontinued on the eastern lines include the 43 specifically named in the original announcement and others formerly operated in connection with them, and are in addition to the 28 discontinued some weeks ago when cutting down in passenger service first started.

The financial saving on the eastern lines is estimated, will run close to $2,000,000 per year, should the curtailment be enforced that long.

On the western lines it is roughly estimated that the economies will effect a similar saving.

About 900 employees in this city were furloughed for various periods and it was said the number of men already under suspension, and those to be laid off within the next month, would total 25,000 on the lines east, and 15,000 west of Pittsburgh.

PITTSBURGH, April 2.—Retrenchment on the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh as announced by the general offices here today has already taken the form of 25 passenger trains with 25 more to be discontinued April 5. Reduction in working forces began last in the fall and on January 1, last, 13,000 less men were employed than on the corresponding date of the year before. Since then there has been some further reduction until the working force is now down to what the officials describe as "red rock."

STARTS WITH $100,000,000Capital of Federal Reserve Bank System Declined Upon.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The new federal reserve banking system will start business with a total authorized capital of about $100,000,000 for all reserve banks, no matter how many institutions the organization committee decides to set up. This fact became apparent last night when figures were made public from all national banks responding to the last call of the comptroller of the currency, made March 4. The statement issued today shows that the reserve banks will be the last of the kind before the formal launching of the system, unless the organization changes its present purpose and delays the announcement of the reserve districts and cities. The total capital and surplus of the 7,101 national banks reporting was given at about $1,783,000,000. Under the new plan, the national bank must subscribe 5 per cent of the capital and surplus to the capital of the reserve bank in its district, and six per cent of this total would be about $107,000,000.

FIND TWO DEAD.Believe Dangerous Woman Shot Wife and Self.

By Associated Press.
PHILADELPHIA, April 2.—Hearing four revolver shots in quick succession early today, a policeman and a night watchman broke into a house in West Philadelphia and found Alexander Glaser 30 years old, and his wife, Julia, 28, dead from bullet wounds.

In the house they also found crying the couple's two sons, six and eight, unharmed. Neighbors said the husband forced his wife to go blind and the police believe that this demented man and led him to kill his wife and himself.

BANDIT DRIVEN OFF.Attempt to Rob Train Frustrated by Express Messenger.

By Associated Press.
ATLANTA, Ga., April 2.—An attempt by a lone bandit to rob Seaboard Air Line passenger train No. 11, southbound, near Comer, Ga., 15 miles northwest of here, was frustrated early today by express messenger R. C. Fletcher.

After a pistol duel with Fletcher, the bandit jumped from the train a short distance from Comer and escaped.

Went Stop Stock Transfer.NEW YORK, April 2.—Supreme Court Justice Greenbaum today denied the petition of the Equitable Life Assurance Society for an injunction to restrain the Union Pacific Railroad company from distributing as a special dividend to holders of common stock $100,000 in cash and stock of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad.*New Style Duck.

FIRE SWEEPS ST. AUGUSTINE,
FLORIDA; DAMAGE IS $750,000*Guests in Tourist Hotels Compelled to Flee Suddenly

By Associated Press.
ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., April 2.—Fire early today destroyed five big tourist hotels, the county courthouse and a number of residences here. So far as known, no lives were lost, though many guests at the Florida House, the Munson, Clarimont, Atlantic, Central and Nonant hotels, which were destroyed, escaped scantly clad and had no time to save their personal belongings.

The flames were checked into this forenoon. Property damaged is estimated at $750,000.

Nearly two blocks near the water front were destroyed. For a time the business section of the city was endangered but the flames were checked by local firemen and a section of the Jacksonville fire department which arrived on an special train shortly after daylight.

The fire originated in the kitchen of the Florida, a large wooden structure, and spread rapidly. The first alarm was turned in at 1 o'clock. Firemen first turned their attention to rescuing guests at the Florida, many of whom were carried down ladders. Occupants of the other hotels were warned of their danger and many fled into the street without any attempt to save any of their belongings. The burned section was bounded by Charlotte, Treasury, Myrtle and St. George streets.

Two persons were injured. An unidentified woman sustained a dislocated neck and was probably fatally hurt when she plunged from the third story of a residence, A. Bibby, guest at the Florida, broke a leg in leaping from the second floor of the hotel. He will recover.

The Vander House, a famous landmark containing valuable curios collected by the St. Augustine Historical Society was among the buildings destroyed. A company of militia today guarding the burned section to prevent looting.

GAS COMPANY FILES ANSWERDeclares It Is Not Required to Furnish Free Gas to Local Schools.

The Payette County Gas Company today filed its answer to the suit instituted by the Connelville school board to compel the company to furnish free gas to the schools. It avers that it has no agreement to furnish free gas to the school buildings, although it has been doing so since its franchise was granted.

The board's suit was brought when the company began sending bills for gas used at the two new buildings erected since the franchise was granted. Apparently, the company's idea was that the new buildings were to be included in the free gas supply.

The board took the initiative to decide the matter once for all, as the bill continued to be presented, though the company made no move to compel payment.

INSTALL COAL MINE MODELNational Museum Shows Working of Great Industry.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 2.—To acquaint those who know little of anything of the working of a coal mine, the National Museum here has installed an immense working model of a colliery and today began operations.

Down to the minutest detail the model, a miniature colliery it is called, shows the entire process of coal mining, from the mine to the market, such as tipping, washing, conveying, and illustrating in the miniature plant for five minutes every half hour throughout the day.

By Associated Press.
MADRID, Spain, April 2.—In his speech from the throne at the opening of the Spanish parliament today, King Alfonso alluded to the outbreak of which Spaniards and citizens in other countries had been victims in Mexico. The Spanish government, his majesty said, had sought and was continuing to seek, for a method by which Spaniards and their property in Mexico could be protected.

The presence of Spanish warships at Vera Cruz, he continued, demonstrated the solicitude of the Spanish government for the lives and interests of Spanish subjects.

TELLS OF MOUNTING EXPENSES

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 2.—President Rea of the Pennsylvania system was the last witness to be heard today before the Interstate Commerce Commission on behalf of the eastern railroads asking for an increase in freight rates. Oral testimony for the roads was concluded with his statement.

Chairman Harlan and Commissioner Clark and Meyer were on the bench today. Doctor Dumba, the Austro-Hungarian ambassador and his guest, Prince Munster of Dornberg, were also present.

J. T. Willis, general superintendent of motive power of the Pennsylvania, testified that "charges to operating expenses on the Pennsylvania system east of Pittsburgh were $26,616,824 in 1910 and $29,411,210 in 1913, an increase of 10.3 per cent." He said that expenses for maintenance of way during 1913 were much greater than ever before and probably would remain at the present high level because of large increases in wages; the policy of congested haulage; increased demands of the traveling and shipping public; the necessity for a higher standard of truck structure and road bed on account of heavier equipment and traffic and the policy of eliminating grade crossings, establishing various safety devices and systems; straightening lines and similar work.

He indicated also the higher cost of rails, ties and material used in deepening roadbeds. He dwelt particularly upon the cost of safety appliances demanded both by law and public sentiment.

President Rea said emphatically in a carefully prepared statement that not only the Pennsylvania, but all American railroads were confronted with the necessity of retrenchment which might prove serious unless they were permitted to increase their net incomes. Said he:

"Unless the gap between receipts and expenditures is widened, we must begin to retrench and retrenchment must begin on waterworks and time improvements not directly necessary to the movement of trains. We should

Case Will Now be Taken to Supreme Court; Other Court Notes.

By Associated Press.
UNIONTOWN, April 2.—According to an agreement of counsel, the court issued binding instructions for the defendant in the case in which Lawrence Reed and others are suing the Connelville & State Line railroad for $15,000 alleged to be due for damages to its property caused by the railroad's construction work.

The case will now be taken to the supreme court for trial. The prosecution claims that it should be entitled to bring three separate suits, one for damages caused by the railroad, one for damages sustained when the work was done, and a third for future damages likely to be suffered. The defense claims that all three claims should be brought in one suit, and the court sustained its contention.

Attorney E. C. Higbee of Connelville and Silas A. Gilne have been ordered to show cause on November 4, 1913, why they should not be ordered to pay the cost of the suit.

Suit was instituted today by John W. Fyfe, executor of the estate of Joseph Fyfe of Dunbar, against George H. Fyfe, Jr. to recover possession of a horse valued at $175, which the plaintiff alleges was the property of the estate but which was sold by the respondent to Joseph H. Fair.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 2.—George Edward Waddell, the famous "Rube" as he was known wherever baseball is played, died in a sanitarium at a late hour yesterday, victim of pneumonia after a long fight for life. Waddell came to West Texas four months ago already weakened by pulmonary trouble but buoyant and hopeful that a few months would see him restored to health and "back in the game." He located on a ranch near Roemer, but instead of improving his strength, grew weaker from day to day until his condition became so serious last month that he was brought to a sanitarium here.

PRESBYTERIANS REWARD
PASTOR BY $300 INCREASE*Congregational Meeting Hears Glowing Reports of the Work Last Year.

At the annual congregational meeting of the First Presbyterian Church held last evening in the First Baptist Church at the close of the regular union prayer services, the salary of the pastor, Rev. J. L. Prouditt, was increased from $1,800 to $2,100 a year, an increase of $300, as an appreciation of his faithful service and excellent results obtained from his work since his connection with the church. The reports submitted last evening were excellent, showing all the different organizations in a flourishing condition. In its history the church has never been in a better financial condition. The board of trustees reported $7,575 the total receipts of the year, leaving a balance in the treasury of about $1,000.

The building committee reported a fund of $22,088, which included a $50,000 mortgage on the main street property, a $100 legacy left the church by Mrs. Lada Murillo, whose death occurred over a year ago, and $1,500 rental from the P. W. Woolworth building. The expenditures were $19,075, toward the erection of the new church on the corner of Green and South Pittsburgh streets.

The officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: Elders, re-elected for three years, R. C. Beer, W. N. Leche and T. J. Hooper, and R. B. Gilm, who was elected to fill the unexpired term of D. V. Brown, deceased; trustees, re-elected for three years, E. J. Smutz and E. K. Lick; deacons, re-elected for three years, A. E. Wagner, auditing committee, William Thomas, W. R. Kenney and Paul Wagoner.

Joseph Laughrey, Elipha Laughrey, Eugene Hall and Raymond Ward were appointed delegates to the Boys' Conference to be held in Pittsburgh April 17, 18, 19 and 20. During the year about 32 members were received into the church, J. T. Hooper, president of the board of trustees presided as chairman of the meeting. Despite the inclement weather the meeting was largely attended and was one of interest. The session of the board of trustees extended a vote of thanks to the church for the use of their church for prayer service and for the congregational meeting.

GET NEW UNIFORMSCompany D, 10th Ohio Dragoon

Company D, 10th Ohio Dragoon, has received the new olive drab service uniforms, similar to those used in the regular army and the members will wear them for the first time at the Federal inspection to be held on April 13 in the State Armory.

The new uniforms are woolen. Hitherto they have been made of cotton. Their natty appearance has created much favorable comment.

Notice has been received by Captain Joseph Harwick of the officers' camp of instruction, which will be held at Mount Grotto from June 7 to 11. Three officers from Company D will attend.

Captain Harwick wishes it known that any worthy recruits who wish to enlist will be welcome. The company enrollment is now up to 62, but all recruits who do not show up well are being dropped as it is desired to raise the standard of the command as high as possible and this can only be done by enlisting good men. Captain Harwick would like to have full complement of 68 before the spring encampment.

B. & O. RETRENCHMENTSTrack Laborers' Wages Cut and Clerks and Stenographers Ordered.

While there has been no general order suspending a large number of men, the Connelville division of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad is feeling the gradual retrenchment that the management is making, following out the plan of other roads.

Track laborers have had their wages reduced from 15 1/2 to 15 cents an hour. A number of stenographers and clerks have been laid off in the local offices. A half dozen telegraphers were laid off about a month ago, the fifties at which they worked being discontinued. Local officials declare that they have had no notice of such a change.

In the meantime, a dozen trainmen in the yard service who were furloughed in December have been taken back this week. The furloughed road crews however are still off.

NEW MANAGER.George Waterhouse in Charge of Western Union Office.

George Waterhouse of town has succeeded D. P. Serbin as manager of the offices of the Western Union Telegraph Company here. Mr. Waterhouse is the first local man to hold the position of manager of the Connelville offices in several years.

Mr. Serbin will go to Pittsburgh in the company's employ. While here Mr. Serbin managed the office very efficiently and good service was given to its patrons.

THIRD WARD INTO
TWO PRECINCTS*May Petition Court For Action Before the Primaries Next Month.*OVER 600 VOTERS ENROLLED*Task of Computing Vote at Last Election Was Such a Tremendous One Election Officers Refuse to Serve Again; Took Thirteen Hours.

A movement to have the Third ward divided into two precincts before the May primaries may be begun shortly by the voters of the ward. The matter has been talked of since the last municipal election when it took the election board 13 hours of the heaviest kind of work to compute the returns. Recently it has been agitated again.

The necessity for some division of this, the largest ward in the city, is apparent, and if action were taken toward that end, court might dispose of the matter before the spring primaries.

Attorneys declare that a petition signed by a sufficient number of qualified electors of the ward would bring the matter to the attention of court. A "sufficient" number would consist of enough names to convince the court that there is a real desire upon the part of the voters for such a change. A suggested division and the location of polling places, if included in the petition, might also have weight with the court.

The registration books of the ward show approximately 600 voters. Of these over 400 voted at the last municipal election. The board worked continuously from 7 P. M. to 8 A. M. before the returns were computed. It tired out and thoroughly disgusted the members almost to a man declared that they would not serve at another election unless the ward was divided.

The vote at the coming primary will be harder to compute the election officers say, because of the separate return sheets for each party and absence of any "straight" tickets.

It is said that voters in the Fourth ward, which is also unusually large, look with favor on a proposition to make an equitable division of the Third and Fourth wards, making three separate wards out of the territory included.

FRICK IS OPTIMISTICDeclares He Does Not Believe Depression Will Work Hardship.

Stopping off for a short time in Pittsburgh yesterday, H. C. Frick declared that he did not think the present depression in the railroad and steel business would work a serious hardship in the Pittsburgh district. Asked concerning the laying off of men by the Pennsylvania railroad, he said:

"Freight shipments have declined materially and will keep on shrinking. The railroads are not buying any steel or iron for new construction or betterment. All orders are being kept within strict bounds of what is indispensable."

Asked if whether business would become better or worse, Mr. Frick said he was unable to prophesy as that question depended on crops. He said he believed the Interstate Commerce Commission should grant a substantial increase in freight rates. He said there was absolutely no foundation for any forecasted panic this summer.

NEW PLAYERS.Manager Mack Announces Signing of

Manager Mack of the Connelville team in the Pennsylvania & West Virginia league announced the signing of several new men this morning. They are William Peach a first baseman of East Orange, N. BALDNESS NOT HEREDITARY. Local Barber Tells Scientist What Causes It.

Taking issue with a scientist, Doctor Jacobson, on views expressed in a Pittsburg paper last Sunday on "What to Do for That Baldness of Yours," Dr. J. F. Henderson, the local barber, advocates singeing as a preventative of baldness. In a long letter printed in the same paper this morning, Dr. Henderson argues that a barber, coming in contact with the scalp, is in a better position to study the subject of baldness than a physician or scientist.

He further claims that baldness is a result of physical debility and is not hereditary. When a man's hair is cut, he states, the ends are left open and the valuable oil which should be utilized to nourish the roots comes out over the scalp. Up to a certain age, Nature seals the ends of the hair and prevents this waste of nutritive oil, but when a man has his hair cut on an average of 16 or 17 times a year, Nature becomes unequal to the task of sealing the ends, and singeing should be resorted to.

Rendine cites instances to prove that those who never submit their locks to the shears know nothing of baldness.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, also you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush out the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is invigorating, cleansing and makes a deliciously effective lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.—Adv.

MAY IRWIN HERE

Jolly Comedienne Plays the Solos Theatre Tonight.

Jolly May Irwin and her supporting company which will present "Widow by Proxy" at the Solos Theatre tonight, arrived in town this afternoon from Chambersburg, W. Va., where they played to a crowded house last night. Miss Irwin is declared to have the best vehicle in all her career in her present play, which is the product of a Pittsburgh woman, Catherine Chisholm Cumming.

Miss Irwin's support is Joseph Woodburn, a Pittsburgh actor, who is a cousin to Dr. E. D. and W. W. Edie of town. He was seen here some years ago in "Drewster's Millions."

GOOD SUGGESTION TO CONNELLSVILLE PEOPLE.

It is surprising the amount of old fuel matter the simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adol-lu-ka, drains from the system. This remedy is famous for curing indigestion and acts on both the upper and lower bowels so thoroughly that one does not feel any stomach-ache, gas on the stomach and constipation almost immediately. We are mighty glad we are Connelville agents for Adol-lu-ka. F. H. Harman, druggist, 215 West Main street.—Adv.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

THIS is the caution applied to the public announcement of Castoria that has been manufactured under the supervision of Chas. H. Fletcher for over 30 years—the genuine Castoria. We respectfully call the attention of fathers and mothers when purchasing Castoria to see that the wrapper bears the signature in blue ink. When the wrapper is removed the same signature appears on both sides of the bottle in red. Parents who have used Castoria for their little ones in the past years need no warning against counterfeits and imitations, but our present duty is to call the attention of the younger generation to the great danger of introducing into their families spurious medicines. It is to be regretted that there are people who are now engaged in the nefarious business of putting up and selling all sorts of substitutes, or what should more properly be termed counterfeits, for medicinal preparations not only for adults, but for young children, and therefore devolves on the mother to scrutinize closely what she gives her child. Adults can do that for themselves, but the child has to rely on the mother's watchfulness. Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

IN FOUR WORDS

An Old Man Reveals the Secret of Success.

Down in the barber shop, the other day a young fellow asked an old man who is well off the best way to amass the coin. The old fellow who is rather gruff answered him in four words: "Simplicity; start saving."

He couldn't have said anything more to the point if he had tried for an hour. Stop spending and start saving, put your savings in a reliable bank at interest, and success is certain. The First National of Connelville is old and safe and strong and pays 4%. One dollar opens a savings account.—Adv.

TRIBUTE TO TYLER

John H. Jovett Speaks in Strong Terms of Remarkable Man.

John Tyler, who will speak to men in the Colonial Theatre next Sunday afternoon, is described by John H. Jovett in his book "Into a Far Country" in these seemingly extravagant words: "Tyler is possibly the most remarkable convert Walter street has ever produced. All those who know him admit this, and to those who do not know him I want to convey the impression of how remarkable a man he really is. He is a citizen of the world. His outlook on life is striking and original. He can putter intelligently in half a dozen languages; he has traveled the globe five times and is as familiar with the East End of London, the Quarter of Paris, the fountain of the Nile, the Rock of Gibraltar as he is with the Bowery. Six years of his life were spent in the Australian bush, away in the back blocks, where he worked as a swagman. Tall, lithe, with not an ounce of superfluous flesh about him standing straight as an arrow in spite of sixty odd years, splendid shaped neck, deeply marked features, resolute mouth, and a voice of tremendous power, John Tyler would command attention anywhere.

For several weeks A. A. Clark has done a big business in selling Holman's skin healer that has won so many friends in Connellsville.

It has been found to heal not only all minor skin troubles, such as pimples, blackheads, herpes, acne, scaly scalp, complexion blemishes, itching feet, etc., but also the worst sores, ulcers, or even chronic eczema and salt rheum. There has yet to be found any form of wound or disease affecting the skin or mucous membrane that Holman does not help, and its action is so quick that those who try it are simply delighted with its promptness.

In spite of the unusual curative powers of its formula, A. A. Clark will sell a liberal-sized jar for 25c. And remember that if you do not think it does what it claims, you get your money back. You certainly can afford to try it on this plan.—Adv.

HOPE IN THE RATE CASE.

The announcement that the Interstate Commerce Commission will put aside all other business and examine into and report within the coming month a decision in the railroad rate case is significant. It is not for us to speculate, anticipate or prognosticate, nor is it proper to hint at extraneous influences, but it may not be out of place to venture the common suspicion that the Democratic administration has become thoroughly frightened over the business situation. It has brought about the railroad rate case in order to avoid this official emergency. If the policy of heckling the railroads and nagging the corporations continues much further, it is evident that the railroads are at the end of their rope. They have arrived at the point where their operating expenses and overhead charges are greater than their revenues. When their stocks come to pay dividends, their power to borrow money will cease, and the sheriff will begin to enforce a cheerful interest in their operation. To avoid this official emergency known to economical operation will be employed. If revenues may not be increased, expenses will be reduced. This policy has already been inaugurated on many of the lines. It has been responsible for the discharge and suspension of thousands of employees, the withdrawal of hundreds of passenger trains, the suspension of iron and steel buying aggregating millions of dollars and in many other but less noticeable actions and policies.

This is reflected back into the iron and steel business, and threatens to throw still more men out of employment. The chain is not endless, but it is long enough to make a whole nation sick with business distress. The iron and steel business has gone forward determined to meet Democratic Tariff conditions, which mean some measure of foreign competition at the seaboard, but if the domestic demand for their products fails it does not require a prophet to foretell the consequences. The railroad needs are about one-third of the iron and steel output. Give the railroads a chance, and the consensus of opinion is that the steel and iron business will be able to take care of itself. It is freely predicted that 1914 will end with a boom if our railroads and our industries are given more encouragement and less deadly snare in the back by this wily-hilarious and cowboy-playful Democratic administration.

There has been a great deal said about "playing politics" in connection with our financial and industrial situation, but if the Democrats will just stop playing something else prosperity will begin to see the light.

BILL MOORE TRAILS.
The trail of the Bull Moose, like the trail of the Hezka Chino, is peculiar. One of the chief causes for the existence of this party was that it represented a living protest against boss methods and stood for the rule of the people. To the end it demanded the abolition of state and county conventions as portions of the party nominating machinery on the grounds that they were too prone to be controlled by the bosses.

In response to this demand, the Republican organization lent its influence to the abolition of the state-wide and party-around primary. Now that the latter has been adopted the Bull Moose politicians are the first to leave it. The state nominating on the Progressive ticket have been made by Boss Bill Plinn, assisted when it pleased him by a few advisers, among the results have been publicly announced as being nominated.

In Fayette county, the lesser bosses have resorted to what they term Federation Committee. The Federation Committee is a close corporation, composed of members selected from the ranks of various religious and up-to-date organizations. Its endorsement seeks to convey the impression that the candidate receiving it is the choice of the church, Sunday schools and other church organizations of the county. This is only another method of securing the votes of the people. The Federation has a pledge or platform of its own which is much more honest than the method of its application.

The Federation Committee is a "cute little trick organization. Some time ago it met and placed in nomination John William Dawson as the Washington party candidate for State Senator. Yesterday it met again and placed the same candidate in nomination as a Republican candidate for the same office. The question now arises whether John William Dawson is a Republican or a Progressive. Since the Bull Moose party is a party of protest, it is not possible for John William to run as a Republican and at the same time cling to the protected party, endorse its policies, approve its actions and seek for its honors.

John William and the Federation may be willing to do this, but the people will never stand for it. In politics the average voter expects a candidate to be one thing or the other; he demands that he be "a man, a mouse or a long-tailed rat," and not try to be everything to everybody, which in fact means that he will be nothing to anybody.

If John William Dawson is a Republican and desires to contest the Republican nomination for State Senator, he is welcome to do so. Considering the location, Address J. D. case of the Courier, Conneltsville, Pa. 1040612

Heart-to-Heart Political Talks in the Bosom of the White House

From the New York Sun.

"I feel hopeful, Mr. President," said Mr. McCormack, "that we shall carry the Congressional elections, but some little doubts will occur. The Tariff needs to produce more revenue."

"We must watch and wait until it does," said the President.

"If" continued Mr. McCormack, "the imports of raw and partly manufactured materials continue to decrease and those of manufactured articles to increase, manufacturers and workmen will—"

"But everybody writes me that business is better."

"Everybody that writes an office is bound to tell you that. People who travel about the country tell a different story. Business is stagnant. Business men are still waiting and watching."

"If they are waiting, they are waiting till Congress passes my trust and trade bills."

"Ahem! Is it then indiscreet to ask, Mr. President, what do you think of the Interstate Commerce Commission?"

"An admirable, a most faithful, zealous and exemplary body—"

"Pardon me for interrupting, but you mean a little too inclined to make an example of any railroad that tries to make a living."

"No, Mr. McCormack, the severest criticism that could be made justly of the commission would be that it is perhaps a little too rigid, suspicious and doctrinaire. For immediate political purposes no doubt—but the last thing in the world I could not think of."

"Still, it would be highly convenient if you could, Mr. President, that we must have good times. We're in power and the railway howl is against us and not with us."

"But I insist that business is good and constantly getting better."

"But suppose that business insists that it isn't? Between us, Mr. President, there are too many Wild Men."

REFORM.

By GEORGE FITCH.

Author of "At Good Old Swash."

Reform is something which every body admires and very few encounter. It is the process of doing things in a way which will not attract the attention of the state's attorney so often.

Everybody loves reform because it would make a better world if it were allowed to do so. Everybody admires heaven, but we will make the most strenuous objections to starting for it any sooner than necessary. Large numbers of politicians speak of reform with the same attitude of remote respect with which they discuss paradise and fight any attempt to bring reform any nearer with desperate energy. This is because reform when it arrives means political decrease.

Very few have anything but kind words for reform, but vast numbers of its admirers buy the latest dictionaries in order to express in new terms their detestation of the reformers. This is because the reformer does not merely love reform. He likes to have it around and is continually making it in over the best bones of various eminent statesmen who dislike being found out with their whole selves. The reformer would be content to allow reform to hang around in the golden ultimately shuddering bright rays of virtue over the front yard of politics while the politicians were carrying the furniture out of the back door, he would be popular and might I say: How can I keep demanding you even be elected to office now and then. But he is too mean to do this. He is as inappropriate as a man who would stand up in the midst of a keg party in the desert and whistle enticingly to a large hungry lion in the Reform keeps coming right along like the lion, however, and creates about as much havoc. Nothing is

COKE MARKET DULL BUT PRICE IS FIRM AT $2.00 PER TON

Which is Doing Very Well Considering the State of Iron and Steel.

PROMPT COKE IN LIGHT DEMAND

Settlement of Pittsburgh Coal Strike Eliminates Possibilities of Doing Good Trade in Connellsville Coal. Pig Iron Prices Soft and Yielding.

From The Weekly Courier.
PITTSBURGH, April 1.—The decision of the Pittsburgh district coal operators to accept the modified demands of the miners and continue at work with the old scale in force unchanged for another two years has not improved the general tone of the Connellsville coke market. It was admitted that some of the coke operators had expectations of selling coal in the next few weeks through the cessation of mining in the union districts. The coal settlement is a victory for the operators although they lose their demand for a renewal of the check-out.

The coke market proper has been without important incident in the past week. The operators have not changed their quotation of $2.00 on furnace coke for April or second quarter, and are not likely to do so, but they have practically abandoned hope of securing a higher figure, and the present position consequently represents some loss of tone in the market, since it is a fact that from time to time a few contracts, probably three or four, were made for second quarter at prices above $2.00. The coke market is really doing well to maintain a level of $2.00 considering the state of the iron and steel trade. With similar iron and steel conditions coke has in the past sometimes dropped well below $2.00. The present coke market is the best for many years in proportion to the position of pig iron and finished steel.

Prompt furnace coke has been in very light demand, but there has been very little in the market and former quotations prevail. The market stands quotable as follows:

Prompt furnace $1.90 to $2.00
Contract furnace $2.00
Prompt foundry $2.00 to $2.10
Contract foundry $2.10 to $2.20

There are some uncovered coke requirements for April, totaling probably over 25,000 tons. The consumers had been expected to come into the market before this for these requirements, but the state of their own business has led them to wait in hopes of making better terms on coke, and consumers who in different circumstances might readily contract for the whole second quarter are now doubtful about contracting even for the single month of April.

The pig iron market has shown no material change from the extreme dullness which has characterized it for several weeks. As a rule prices are not changed, but whenever any important inquiry comes into the market there is likely to be a recession. This basis from several weeks ago yielded 25 cents, and last week Bessemer iron yielded a like amount, merely because an inquiry came into the market for 1,500 tons, the order being taken at $14.00. Valley, when the openly recognized quotation had been $14.25. Foundry iron has shown very little activity, inquiries being only for small lots, which do not really test the strength of the market. Deliveries on contracts are fair, but not overly good. There are no prospects at the moment of any additional furnaces going into blast, while there are possibilities of a few going out.

The market stands quotable as follows: Bessemer, $14.00; Basic and Malleable, $13.00; No. 2 Foundry, $13.25; Forge, $12.75; f. o. b. Valley furnaces, 25 cents higher delivered Pittsburgh.

Have Markets Close.
The Allegheny Coke Company, which succeeded the Mitchell Coal Company in developing Kentucky coal, operates 150 ovens, which convert its entire coal output into coke, which is marketed and consumed within a radius of 200 miles of the mines.

Making Surveys in Somerset.
Frank W. Newhall, chief engineer, and a corps of assistants have been making surveys and prospecting in coal fields in Somerset county, for the Republic Iron & Steel Company, which is considering the purchase of 1,000 acres of coal in that county.

STEEL AND IRON TRADE SHOWS NO IMPROVEMENT

Some Tendency to Curtail Production and More Open Price-Cutting.

NEW YORK, April 1.—The American Metal Market and Daily Iron & Steel Report will review the steel and iron trade situation tomorrow as follows:

Time has brought no improvement in the iron and steel situation and the trade has become correspondingly depressed. While it is recognized that the extreme dullness of the past few weeks has been caused chiefly by business generally being dull, some improvement was expected ere this through the advent of spring.

There is a slight tendency to curtail steel output, as some departments are beginning to run out of specifications and unless there is a very considerable improvement in demand this curtailment will eventually reach considerable proportions. It is quite probable, however, that there will be any occasion for mills to drop to the 50% rate, which prevailed early in December.

There is more open price cutting in a few lines, but thus far no important change has been stirred up. Practically nothing has been done thus far by buyers who entered into second quarter contracts last January at prices which now prove to be above the current market. It is expected that these contracts will have to be rewritten, thus causing some form of activity at least and developing a trading level for large tonnage.

The Carnegie Steel Company has recently retired from its isolated position of demanding 1.25c as a minimum for basic plates and slabs, and is now regularly quoting 1.20c on these products. It is recognized, however, that the modification is not sufficient to secure important orders, particularly in the case of plates.

It is significant of the general apathy that Lake Superior ore prices have not been raised for the season, producers intimating that they are not in receipt of any important inquiries. The bituminous coal mining industry is being scolded by individual districts on the basis of a continuation of the old scale for two years beginning April 1st. The Pittsburgh district accepted the concession on Monday. Mine operations will necessarily be light, probably averaging under 50% of capacity, until stocks are liquidated.

THIN PEOPLE CAN INCREASE WEIGHT

This man and woman who would like to increase their weight with 10 or 15 pounds of healthy "meat" should try eating a little Sargol with their meals for a while and note results. Here is a good test worth trying. First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Then take Sargol—one tablet twice a day and the next measure will tell their own story, and most any thin man or woman can easily add from five to eight pounds in the first fourteen days by following this simple direction. And best of all, the new flesh stays put. Sargol does not itself make fat, but mixing with your food, it turns the fat and starches of what you have eaten into rich, fine fat producing nourishment for the tissues and blood—prepares it in an easily assimilated form which the blood can readily accept. All this nourishment now passes from your body as waste. But Sargol stops the waste and does it quickly and makes the fat producing contents of the very same meals you are eating now develop roundness and nourish healthy flesh between your skin and bones. TESTIMONY ALL IN

Steel Corporation Suit is at Last Nearing an End.

After introducing into the record a few more documentary exhibits of small import, the defense in the Steel Corporation dissolution suit on Monday announced its side of the great case is closed. Thus the hearings which began early in May, 1913, and which had almost assumed the aspect of a permanent institution, have come to an end.

The government and Steel Corporation attorneys now will begin work on the preparation of the briefs and oral arguments which they will submit to the United States district court at Philadelphia for the adjudication of the action. The date applied for, as announced previously in the Cleveland Daily Iron Trade, is September 15, and is expected the court will make a definite announcement shortly as to the time. Just how long the deliberations of the court will require is entirely a matter of conjecture.

LOTS ARE BARGAINS.

showing under his war-bonnet, stood erect with folded arms. Down the line of warriors, apparently oblivious to their presence, Mademoiselle came, the Englishman slouching behind. The crowd of figures hid for a moment Brady and his guard, and surged in between them.

There was silence; I could hear the wind in the tree tops, the restless movements, the heavy breathing of the excited savages; somewhere a dog barked. "Aye," I stopped, her hand now touching the soldier's sleeve, her eyes on the dark, savage face confronting her. A moment he stared at her, then at the Englishman, while I held my breath.

"Why you—here—Yuden!" he asked in halting English, the face like bronze. "I—saw you—do forest—why come—back?"

"Because I am a Wyandot and a Christian," she answered, the words slow and distinct. "We kill warriors in battle, not by torture, Sis-te-wah. I come with this that I may beg your prisoner's life. See; it is the cross of the Great God."

"Huh!" he grunted. "Why should we listen—to-a-squaw? The warriors of—the Shawnees—are men!"

"So are the Wyandots, Sis-te-wah; they are as the birds of the air. Once they came to the villages of the Shawnees. You know it well—they were warriors, under great chiefs. Yet they listen to words of wisdom from a squaw! Am I not Reasoning Woman; I have sat in the councils of my people; I am the daughter of the White Chief!" She glanced about her proudly, looking into the ring of dark faces. "I am a squaw, but I am a Wyandot—no Shawnee dare place a hand on me."

"Is so," he answered gravely. "I know—but my—young men. It best you go—I speak true—the white man will die—it has been decided—the Shawnees know not—your God—the God of the Long Robes—the white man's God."

"But he came in peace, not war; he was a messenger to the Wyandots!"

The chief had stepped back, and lifted his hand, but now he stood statue-like before her.

"He great hunter—the warrior—have met—in battle. He kill warriors—my tribe—now he die—spoken. Sis-te-wah listen—no more!"

"But you said you shall," she insisted. "Is not the Wyandots also who say this. You may refuse; you may disregard the cross I bear, but you dare not disobey the word of the English—the great chief across the water. If you will not heed the word of a squaw, listen to this man, a warrior of the Red Coats."

"I know him not," coldly, "nor what he—says. He nothing—to—Sis-te-wah—why he—come here?"

"We stop this dead end, Sis-te-wah, he speaks for the Great God, outrage, he speaks for the Great God! The best the Shawnees listen. Pamonsieur."

She stepped aside and the Englishman stood alone, facing the grim-faced Shawnee. The very description of his position had brought to him courage; he knew enough of Indian nature to be aware that any crying now would add to his peril. In calm assurance he folded his arms.

"You say you know not who I am," Sis-te-wah he said sharply. "I will tell you; you and your warrior I am an officer of England, an aide of Hamilton. Will you hear me now?"

There was silence, profound but less; the bold defiance had fallen away from him like a blow. Then, before the chief could answer, the crowing of Indians was broken, and the circle of firelit spears strode forward, his mottled face purple with chaste bristling. One moment he glowered into the soldier's face, the latter stepped back, and against mademoiselle, all his and gone. Leppin laughed, the cruel of it breaking the silence.

REPUBLIC IRON AND STEEL CO. EXAMPLE OF GRADUAL GROWTH

Great Interest Developed From Nondescript Groups of Iron Mills.

STARTS WITH TWO CONVERTERS

Made Steel at a Profit With Second Hand Equipment Set Up First at Youngstown; Constant Improvement Until It Was Standard Plant.

It is interesting to reflect upon the history of the Republic Iron & Steel Company, says the American Metal Market and Daily Iron & Steel Reporter. As known now it is a steel interest, one of the very largest outside the United States Steel Corporation. The other steel interests, however, are either very old steel interests or have grown rapidly from a relatively recent beginning by practically the entire reinvestment of earnings. The Republic Iron & Steel Company is unique in that it was formed with a relatively large capitalization and yet it has abandoned almost all the property against which the capitalization stood, has built up an entirely new group of plants, and has paid its preferred dividends for the entire period of its life, leaving a small margin which is fully taken care of.

The Republic Iron & Steel Company as organized May 3, 1895, was not a steel interest but a collection of more or less unattractive iron mills. There were no less than 29 of these mills located in the central west and the south. Of these mills there remain only four and even these are not now regarded chiefly as iron mills. One of the plants had a pair of little Bessemer converters which were dismantled and later set up in a modest way at Youngstown. There were in addition three little blast furnaces in the north and two little ones in the south.

The policy of the company in the earliest years was strongly aggressive, but conservative in equally strong measure. According to it did not attempt to build an expensive steel plant the continued financing to which might have proved difficult such an undertaking did prove impossible with a certain concern in the immediate Pittsburgh district but instead it set up its pair of little second hand converters in Youngstown and made some steel at a profit. Continuously it improved that steel plant, rarely interrupting the production of steel, until eventually it had a standard Bessemer steel plant which would compare favorably with any. The pair of little Alabama blast furnaces was similarly improved until eventually there was a fine plant of three stacks.

Step by step other improvements were made in the north, while the old iron mills were abandoned one by one. The mines were developed, coke works established and improved new blast furnaces and a pipe plant built and an open-hearth department added as a complement to the Bessemer.

Through all this period the Republic Iron & Steel Company has been struggling, but struggling successfully. Its collection of over two dozen nondescript iron mills of 15 years ago has been replaced until now the company is a steel interest, which has made more than a million tons of steel in a year, two-thirds Bessemer and one-third open-hearth while it has also produced more than a million tons of pig iron in a year. Under favorable circumstances it can probably make 1,200,000 tons of each and with its new by-product coke plant at Youngstown completed, within a very short time it will be self contained in practically all respects.

The preferred stock of $25,000,000 is now all issued, the original issue having been $20,000,000. The common stock there was authorized $30,000,000, of which $27,500,000 was issued, while of this amount $141,000 is now in the treasury. With no bonded indebtedness whatever possibly one of the secrets of the eventual success the company now has $25,000,000 of bonds authorized but only a trifle more than half the amount standing as a liability.

WRIGHT-METZLER COMPANY.

CONNELLSVILLE STORE.

Exceptional Advantages for Women with a Preference for Wright-Metzler Clothes:

Suits Coats Dresses Waists

—the advantage of the biggest-in-town collections to choose from; the advantage of variety, which takes in everything new and staple on one hand and which goes, on the other, above and beyond the best and prettiest shown in other stores. The advantages of fair-pricing, style-correctness and dependable quality.

"Style" is hard to define, but plain to observe. Here, our apparel for women and girls is style-perfect. The season's fashions are without garish and glitter, and without offense to refined tastes. A fine support to Wright-Metzler styles is QUALITY: dependable textures and tailoring; honest "inside" work and a finish that shows sincere endeavor.

All garments are ONE PRICE to everybody.

That price, is as low as the thing can be sold for regularly. If, for business reasons, prices are changed during the season, everybody has equal advantage at the lower rates.

The position the store assumes in Fashiondom is a responsible one, and to merit your trust in our ability to provide the right things keeps us constantly alert to the frequent changes and modifications continually going on.

Newer-Style Suits, Wraps, Dresses, Waists and Lingerie Beautiful and Interesting is the best proof that we can put before discriminating women to make clear this store's importance as a selling place of style-perfect, supremely quality apparel. You who must have garments of the highest type will find ample provision here, and at prices emphatically less than are charged in city stores dealing in "exclusive" modes. The finer garments are one-of-a-kind and not re-ordered for stock when sold. The more staple things are different from the modes other stores show.

Whatever your preference, you'll find a broader variety to choose from at Wright-Metzler's. Garments that may require alterations should be selected NOW—to insure their readiness for Easter wear.

Ten Years Ago

in quarters less than half the size of the present floor space, Wright-Metzler Company began the selling of good goods in Conneltsville. The beginning was small, just as the acorn from which an oak tree starts is small, but the store had grit and honesty of purpose behind it and sound business principles underlying it—

So it grew and is still growing. It grew in size, in service-giving, in usefulness to a community; it grew into a necessity of the people and into their confidence. Its roots were "quality," goods, fashionable, beautiful, dependable goods—full measure at a fair price and ONE price to all.

An advertisement outlining the policy of this store, published in this newspaper ten years ago, said, among other straight-from-the-shoulder things,

"Never a word, syllable or line, figure or price will appear in any of our advertisements but are facts, fully and carefully substantiated by the goods in our store."

The advertisement was drafted by Mr. F. W. Wright speaking to the people of Conneltsville, and speaking for the Wright-Metzler store.

And although there were some people who shook their heads and "couldn't exactly see where the town had room for more stores," fully and carefully substantiated by the goods" won for Wright-Metzler's the enviable position it occupies today—Conneltsville's biggest, best, most modern selling place of safe quality to fine merchandise at fair prices to all alike.

Starting Monday, April 6th, Wright-Metzler Company Will Begin a 10th Anniversary Sale which you can take our word for it will be a sale of greater importance to Conneltsville and its pocket-book than any formerly staged here or herabouts.

It will be a sale of staple to finest quality in-season merchandise from all over the store—goods of spring styles and spring newness, and in full varieties, at very low prices. The sale comes at a time to supply spring apparel before Easter at prices common at the END of a season. Later papers will have the full story of what may be called, without exaggeration, Wright-Metzler's and Conneltsville's most important sale.

COKE IN ALABAMA

Shift of Trade to Manufacturer Centers is Apparent.

In Bulletin 16, issued by Eugene Allen Smith, State Geologist, the coke industry of Alabama is reviewed, in part as follows:

The evolution in making coke in the United States and the gradual shifting of this related industry from the coal mining region to the centers of population and manufacture is interestingly shown in the statistics of coal production of Alabama.

According to the returns the quantity of coal made into coke decreased from 4,417,418 tons in 1910 to 3,122,232 tons in 1911, and to 1,915,474 tons in 1912 whereas the actual quantities of coal made into coke in the state were 6,272,332 tons in 1910, 4,411,298 tons in 1911, and 4,885,498 tons in 1912.

The reason for this apparent discrepancy lies in the fact that in the two later years the proportion of coal made into coke in by-product ovens has materially increased and as these ovens are located at the blast furnaces, or in or near the larger cities, the coal shipped to them appears as a part of the production "loaded at mine for shipment and not as coal made into coke at mines. The quanty of Alabama coal made into coke in 1912 at points distant from the mines was nearly one and one-half times that used at ovens near the mines.

Buy Mine at Lilly. Shoemaker & Hughes have bought the McShannon mine near Lilly, Pa., and have taken possession. Repairs are being made anticipatory to active operation.

Steel Interest Buys Coke. The Jones & Laughlin interest bought some spot coke in the Conneltsville region this week. It was not learned what impelled this steel interest to buy heathie coke when it makes its own by-product variety in reputed abundance.

Expensive Hats

Reproduced in $5, $7.50 and $10 Millinery

Smart, splendid effects, very stylish! Copied in less expensive materials—where the bare cost of materials in the original is great—but the same lines, the same becomingness, the same charm and refinement.

And these copies, in $5, $7.50 and $10 hats in nowise conflict with Wright-Metzler modes for which we ask more money.

Nor do they infringe on our exclusive creations of a very high order.

Wright-Metzler $5 to $10 Hats really form a little shop of good-looking, well-chosen, expertly-made millinery.

—And this collection is distinctly ahead in newer ideas, newer shapes, newer braids, trimmings and colorings.

Newer Styles in:

BOW HATS

—the ribbons of moire, plain silk or velvet, standing straight up, or slanting. The modes are new and likeable; the ribbons good and the bows full and flaring—the vogue at this instant.

THE SHOE POLISH HAT

—not the name of a shape, but of the finish of a split braid; a regular polished effect which adds a tone to both shape and trimmings—a refinement and richness new to the season.

COLONIAL HATS AND SAILORS

—street hats to fall in love with. Prettier sailors than we've ever seen before—and trimmed in prettier flowers, ribbons and feathers than in past seasons.

Pompadour trimmed Colonials have sharp corners or softened lines—either style a good style, and wearable.

FLOWER HATS

—small, neat buds and foliage, or larger flowers—singly or in numbers, and draped around smart crowns or made to peep out from beneath or at the side, front or back.

THE WATTEAUX HAT

—the most distinctive style yet shown. Flat, with hardly a crown, and bandeaux trimmed with flowers, feathers, ribbon or ornaments. A Watteaux sets sanely at daring angles—a most becoming mode to certain faces and figures.
